

Abstract of the Disclosure

Finger Ring with a finger ring type band, the band having a circular inside diameter. The side walls of the band that abut adjacent fingers are thinner than the rest of the band. The portion of the band, that corresponds to where the ring finger joins the palm portion of the hand, is hour glass shaped. The entire inside diameter of the ring is convex in shape. A preferred embodiment includes the dimensions of the band can be proportionally increased or decreased to accommodate smaller or larger finger diameters.
